

„sir“ oliver mally's blues distillery – “radio”

do you like Vodka? I do! a lot!! I like it straight, with or without ice. doesn't matter. oh, gimme a second...I think I should have one while I keep writing this. but I don't know.... should I mix me a "Bloody Mary"? with a dash of lime-sirup and some lemon-pepper and 4 or 5 dashes of Tabasco sauce. it's so damn' spicy. it really makes you wake up at any time of the day;-)))) . or how about a "White Russian"? with milk and Kahlua coffee liquor. mhhhh. nice but dangerous! makes you weak in the knees. watch your step, buddy! (somebody, once told me "drinking ain't dangerous – it's the falling down when you're drunk".) or should I get serious? with Martini and olives? too serious! for now... maybe I'll add some grapefruit-juice. this one's really a blast. yes, that's the good thing about Vodka. you can mix it up with almost anything – you just gotta know how to do it - and it tastes great! even with orange juice.... the legendary "Screwdriver". but be careful. don't screw it up or overdose. this might cause a nice lil' hangover and bring the blues to your house (unless you already have it!).

do you like the Blues? I do! a lot!! I like it.....;-)))))

oliver mally

"radio" : the first studio release in six years of austrias no.1 contemporary blues band, "sir" oliver mally's blues distillery, seves us a strong cocktail of blues mixed with various styles like chill-out, lounge, rock'n roll, pop.... if it's possible? yes, it is! you'll find tasty and fanciful arrangements as well as powerful live performances. and the whole blend sounds like it was the most natural thing on earth to do.but as the liner-notes say : "blues is like vodka. you can mix it up with almost anything -- you just gotta know how to do it".

"the best album between rock and blues, that I've heard in this millennium. it's creativity sets standards. an absolute must!"
